THE COUNTY TICKET.

It is gratifying that while the Democrats and the inflationists have united on a mongrel ticket, for the purpose of snatching victory from the hands of the Republicans, the latter are working vigorously and harmoniously for the county ticket placed in nomination by the Republican convention. They understand that the selection of a ticket largely composed of inflationists, and the other portion not caring whether honest money is voted up or down, was a trick to catch Republican votes, but the scheme can not win. Men who have broad common sense, who have settled political convictions, who have fought many a hard battle in the ranks of the party since 1860, don't propose at this vital moment, to step aside and go off skirmishing with a party which dare not say it is in favor of a sound currency, nor dare utter a word in behalf of a free ballot in the South. For this reason, the county ticket as well as the Congressional ticket, will receive the solid vote of the Republican party. This is as it should be. The ticket is a good one. There is not a drone on it. Every candidate commands the confidence and the respect of every voter, and the solid support of members of the party in the county.

The peculiar condition of political affairs in this country makes it imperative that the Republican party should be united—united on the candidate for Congress, united on each of the candidates for the Assembly, and united on every individual nominee for a county office. There is nothing like going into a political fight with one common purpose—to make the victory sweeping; and to make the success brilliant and significant. Every member of the party should be thoroughly in earnest and determined to give every candidate his hearty support.

SOUTH CAROLINA TROUBLES.

There is a sort of a revolutionary condition of things in South Carolina. That State breeds dissension and disloyalty as naturally as hot weather and marshes breed mosquitoes. The seeds of treason were sown in the Palmetto State during the days of Calhoun, and they have not since been eradicated from the political soil of the State. She was the first to secede from the Union, the ordinance having been passed in November 1860, more than a month before that of any other Southern State, and she is the first to resist the authority of the United States after reconstruction. There is no political liberty in that State for persons who do not belong to the Democratic party. Republicans are threatened with death if they do not cease attempting to hold political meetings. The Democratic party of the South, whose history is written in blood, and whose record is blacker than the shades of eternal darkness, uphold the villainous work now going on in South Carolina. The party glorifies in the murders, the beatings, the violence now being committed there, and its boasts that that kind of work is local self-government. It is impossible to give a description of the condition of things as they now exist in that State.

For instance, Mr. Stephen A. Swail, of South Carolina, is running for office. He is a Republican, and desired to hold meetings and to speak to the people, confining himself to the issues which divide the parties. But he is not permitted to speak. The Democratic Committee of Williamsburg county, has ordered that Mr. Swail be driven from his home by threats of death if he did not instantly leave. Once he attempted to defend his rights as an American citizen, by speaking at a Republican meeting, but the State militia shot at Swail twice, and dispersed the crowd. Governor Hampton is acquainted with the deeds of violence which are being constantly committed, but he seems perfectly unconcerned about the matter, and allows the Ku-klux and the rifle clubs to do as they please. The condition of things has been reported to the President, and a Cabinet meeting was called to consider the outrages, but no definite steps were taken. The President is desirous of putting an end to the lawlessness which exists in that State, but what course to take to prevent violence, and to protect Republicans in their right to hold political meetings, is perplexing to the Administration. We may add that the sentiment of the Northern Democratic party is against the employment of any means to prevent these outrages.

Justice has at last overtaken J. L. Hathaway, the defaulting treasurer of the Fall River (Mass.) Mills Company. He was arrested last spring on the charge of embezzlement, and on Monday was sentenced to ten years in the State prison. Chace, who was also one of the officers of the same company, was convicted and he too, was sentenced to serve the Commonwealth in the State prison for the term of ten years. It is a good thing that these and other prominent men of Fall River who have become defaulters, have been punished as thieves should be punished. God is no respecter of person, neither should the law be. They had in their life time an abundance of the world's goods. They moved in fashionable society, resided in elegant residences, and lived in splendid style. They not only were prominent in the business and social circles of Fall River, but they were loud in the profession of religion, and were applauded by the societies with which they were connected. Their true natures were soon found out. They had an opportunity to steal—they were not honest enough to resist the temptation. The law placed its hand upon them. Justice pronounced the sentence, and they pass from the company of the rich and the gay to the companionship of criminals.

On the 7th of October the Democrats held a meeting at Georgetown, South Carolina, which was called a "grand demonstration." They were uniformed in old gray pantaloons, red shirts, and wore sabres, pistols, and sixteen shooters. Ex-Judge Cook was one of the principal speakers, and during the speech he exclaimed: "Exterminate the Republicans! Beat them! Kill them! and any thing to rid the country of them! We propose to rule the South!" That is local self-government, over which the platform of the Elkhorn Democratic Convention glories so much.

The Chicago Journal mentions the fact that Hon. John Wentworth, familiarly known as "Long John," has taken his place in the Republican ranks, and on Tuesday presided over a Republican Convention in Chicago. Mr. Wentworth became estranged from his old party a few years ago, but this year finding that the Democrats are totally devoid of all patriotic impulses, of honest sentiment regarding the financial issues, and that they have no fixed policy concerning the currency question, he abandoned them in disgust.

The largest volume of nominal currency ever in circulation was in 1865, when it reached 900 millions, the gold value thereof being 692 millions. In 1878 the gold value of the currency, is 684 millions to which must be added over 200 millions of gold and silver which will go into circulation in two months and a half.

The Democratic leaders do not consider that Tilden will be so much as a cipher in the next Presidential campaign; and the question is, will the Democratic party be any more than a cipher itself? From present indications it won't be much more.

The Democratic party offers to sell out to the inflationists for even the smell of an office; but in the Republican party the Democrats could not find an elector who would take $100,000 for his vote. This is the difference between the two parties.

The Hon. G. Van Stenwyk, of La Crosse, has been nominated by the Republicans for the Senate. He is a popular gentleman, and a worthy one, and will be elected. He was formerly a member of the Assembly from Columbia county.

We publish in this issue a portion of the stirring speech of General John A. Logan, delivered recently at Clinton, Illinois. Greenbackers would be doing themselves a favor to give the speech a careful reading.

The greater the violence used in the South toward Republicans, and the more political murders there are committed, the more successful is local self-government, in the estimation of the Democratic party.

It is now an impossibility for Tilden to "cipher" out his chances in 1880. He may know considerable about ciphering, but he can hardly cipher out the result to his satisfaction.

Thurman talks of going to Massachusetts and peddle his speech for Butler's benefit. If he does so, set Massachusetts down for 25,000 Republican majority.

DOOLITTLE.

Chicago, October 16, 1878—I see by the Gazette and the Chicago Times that Hon. James H. Doolittle has assumed the charge of the Greenback Congressional candidate, doing his correspondence, and otherwise assisting the man of straw. Doolittle having been made a political corpse in 1866, my advice would be, that he be allowed to continue in the same role until election. The result will be that the Hon. C. G. Williams, the true and trusted champion of the Republicans of the First District, will receive such an endorsement at the polls as he has never received before, compelling the Doolittle-Parker combination to make an affidavit that they were candidates for the position. Doolittle, of course, would like the United States Senatorship. His record in the past would permit him to "side track" off and into any political organization that would give him place and power. He would even become a good Republican again to obtain an office. His vanity and ambition are unbounded, but principles he has not. Every body in Wisconsin knows his political character, and that he is no more to be trusted than the chameleon. Sic transit.

BOSTON, Oct.—The Democrats of the Seventh Congressional District to-day nominated Tarbox, the man whom Senator Blaine went for in 1876, for Congress.

In the Sixth District the Democrats unanimously nominated Carlton for Congress.

Special to the Gazette.

PARIS, Oct. 16.—The Bank of France to-day raised its rates of discount to three per cent, and loan rate to four per cent. Four additional failures are announced to-day.

THE PLAGUE.

A Warm South Wind at Memphis—The Epidemic in the Back Country.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 15.—All of to-day the thermometer has ranged between eighty and ninety, and the dust has been flying in every direction, impelled by a warm south wind, which indicates rain. Your correspondent regrets to report unfavorable news to-night as to an abatement of the epidemic. Information from many quarters gives contrary evidence of the dying out of the fever. Here in Memphis it undoubtedly has spent its fury, but another tale must be told of the condition of affairs in the suburbs and interior towns which border the line of the Memphis and Louisville, and Memphis and Charleston, and Mississippi and Tennessee Railroads.

The Board of Health reports the names of 31 who have been interred to-day. Eighteen of these died in the city, and thirteen in the suburbs.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 15.—The weather is cloudy and warm. Deaths, 30; cases reported, 135. Total deaths, 3,549; total cases, 11,855.

IOWA.

The Question of Holding an Election in November.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 15.—The Republican State Central Committee met in Des Moines to-day to consider the question of an election in November as proposed by the opposition parties in this State. The question was whether or not the Constitution of that State required an amendment in order to change the time for election of State officers in this State so as to conform with the provisions of the Federal law of 1875 providing for uniform Congressional election in November. The subject was thoroughly discussed, and the discussion was participated in by several of the leading lawyers of the State, and it was unanimously decided upon that the October election was legal, and that the Republican party will, in no respect, recognize as legal any election which may be held this year in November. It was also stated at the consultation by gentlemen who had seen the chairman of the two committees in the First District, Greenback and Democratic, that the call for a convention in the district, as sent out to the Associated Press for Burlington yesterday, was not authorized, and that no convention of the kind will be held.

FITZ JOHN PORTER.

The Testimony in Fitz John Porter's Case.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The whirligig of time has seldom brought to view so strange a combination as that of the famous guerrilla commander, Mosby, and a son of the martyr, Abraham Lincoln, both of whom appeared yesterday as witnesses in the Fitz John Porter case. According to the testimony of Mr. Lincoln, his father thought the sentence of the court-martial against Porter just, and that he deserved death. Some of Porter's own words, as given in the latest testimony, appear as the worst evidence against him.

THE COTTON CROP.

What the October Returns Show for the Cotton Crop.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—October returns to the Department of Agriculture indicate the average condition of the cotton crop at 90 per cent, the same as September. Compared with October 1877, the growing crop shows an improvement of 11 per centum.

The October condition, equals that of the splendid crop of 1870, and exceeds any intervening year. Insect injuries are unimportant. With the increased acreage planted, the crop now promises to produce more than 5,000,000 bales.

TROUBLE.

A Call for Armed Assistance Made on Natchez, Miss.—Look Out for a Massacre of Negroes.

NATCHEZ, Miss., Oct. 15.—A courier who arrived from Waterproof, La., this evening reports that 2,500 armed negroes surrounded Waterproof to-day. They threatened to burn and sack the town. It is supposed they burned J. Senego's place, on Lake St. John, four miles below Waterproof. A call for armed assistance was made on Natchez, and 100 men will leave here on the ferry-boat to aid the whites at Waterproof, if needed.

CONVICTED.

Convicted of Murder in the First Degree.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 15.—In the case of Rev. H. H. Hayden, charged with the murder of Mary Stannard, the Grand Jury, after two days' deliberation, found a bill for murder in the first degree.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—R. Lyman Potter, the wheelbarrow man, arrived about noon to-day. An immense crowd followed him through the streets.

FIATISM ILLUSTRATED.

Samples of the Doctrines of the Greenback Party.

Reasons Why the Government Can't Create Money Out of Nothing.

A Convincing Argument by General John A. Logan.

GENERAL LOGAN ON "FIAT MONEY."

In a recent speech at Clinton, Illinois, General John A. Logan paid his respects to the lunacy of the fiatists, as follows: "Now, my friends, let us glance for a moment at the basis upon which rests the whole theory of what is called the greenback creed, improperly so called, however, as the greenback belongs to the Republican party by patent right, and the use of its name in designation of a spurious article is as unwarranted as it is dishonest. But the basis of the greenback creed, that which underlies the main structure as well as its various wings and additions, and this too, whether promulgated in the platforms of the National party or the Democratic party, or in their campaign documents, or their speakers on the stump, is the simple assertion that a Government has the power to create money. Now you will observe that there is a broad distinction between the creation of actual or real money, and the creation of representative money. Governments can create representative money, and every civilized Government of the world probably does so at this day. But mark the difference between real money and representative money. Real money is something which has an exchangeable value among all commercial nations, and log usage has constituted the precious metals the materials of which it shall be made. Representative money is something which represents real money. Now gold and silver are the metals which by universal consent, are used as the standards of value; and, being so recognized, they have an inherent worth—that is, the value resides within the thing itself. Now paper, not being a standard of value, has no inherent worth, no matter what devices may be printed or engraved upon it; and when Governments issue notes for convenience of handling and safety against loss by robbery, etc., they can only have a value in so far as they represent the recognized standard of value. Take that standard from behind them and they are only bits of paper. Hence, you see, it is impossible to create money out of nothing. A man may give you his note of hand, promising to pay a certain sum by a certain date, but his note is valuable to you only as it represents an ability and disposition to pay that which is recognized as money by your neighbors, and will be taken by them in exchange for articles which you need. But the Greenback theory proposes to take away the representative character of the bill or note entirely, and declare that a certain piece of paper is a dollar de facto.

Let me show you how easy it is for a man dealing in money to deceive the people, though of course you will understand it. Let us suppose this fiat money is [CONCLUDED ON SECOND PAGE.]

ating the world, which, before God's fiat, was void and without form, as the simple means by which the Government of the United States could flat value into something which has no value. The General tells us that the Almighty used the latin phrase fiat lux —"let there be light"—but he forgets to state the language in which the result of the fiat—"and there was light"—was announced. Perhaps it was in English, or some other tongue to which the General is a stranger. At all events, it would seem that the Almighty never delegated the power to make something out of nothing to the Kings of the Old World, nor to the Congresses of the United States (laughter) and if the infinite wisdom had seen fit to lodge that power in some mortal repository, I can scarcely believe it would have been delegated to Benjamin F. Butler. (Hours of laughter and applause.) But it is surprising, my friends, how we are sometimes deceived by arguments which, in our sober senses, we would reject at once. Some analogy is claimed between the stamp on a money coin and the stamp on a piece of paper. The man who makes scales and weights puts stamps upon the latter, and thus certifies that one is a pound weight, another a half pound weight, etc. So it is precisely with a Government stamp upon a piece of gold or silver, which simply certifies that it has a certain quantity and fineness; or, in other words, that it contains a given weight of the metal, which has an inherent and intrinsic value, and is greater or less, according to the quantity which it contains.

THE CONFEDERATE FIAT. But I wish to illustrate this fiat method of creating money out of nothing, which has no value a little more fully. I deny the power to create money by fiat, and I will illustrate it in this way: Here is a $5 Confederate bill. [The speaker produces a bill.] Now, suppose I ask some Greenbacker how much it is worth, he will say it is not worth a cent. Why isn't it? I was told the other day it was because the Confederate Government had failed. But if it was created money, the failure of the Government couldn't affect it. Now suppose this coin to be a $10 gold piece, stamped by the Confederate States of America with the stamp of the bogus Government. But the Confederate Government has failed, and I want to ask how much this gold piece is worth? [A voice—"$10."] It is worth $10 just as much as it was when first stamped. It is worth that sum without the Confederate stamp as well as with it, because their stamp does not affect the value at all, but is a simple certificate as to the quantity and quality of the gold contained in the money. Hence the creation is not in it—the power to create does not exist in the Government, only the power to certify as to quantity and quality. When you take a $5 note and declare it to be worth $5, a real truth is that it isn't worth a cent, unless there is something in it besides the paper. What is that something? A promise to pay. A promise to pay what? Why a promise to pay in full and the promise to redeem in coin are the only things which put a value on the paper at all. This promise exists in the stamp or in the printing. It assumes a promise on its face, which gives it value. Hence, I say, we may make legal tenders to any amount we choose, but without the promise of the Government to redeem them the bill is not worth the paper it is printed on.

"Oh," it is said, "it will pay debts." I want something that will more than pay debts. We don't always expect to be in debt, I hope. Suppose that Congress should declare by law that a man must take a bushel of potatoes for a $500 debt, would that be just? But it is argued that the paper is legal tender, and he must take it whether he wants it or not. Congress has power to pass bankrupt laws and free a man from all debt, and it is claimed it has power to make these proposed greenbacks legal tender; but will they really pay a debt? How is the creditor going to get his pay? Why, it is replied, as it is legal tender, he can make something out of it from him. Very well; I want to follow the money down, to see where it is, and I should like to ask what is going to happen to the fellow who takes it last? [Laughter.]

On all a century ago under the existence of the assigners as they were called. The people were severely punished for refusing to take them. The Government undertook to force them upon the people, but they went down and down until they were not worth a cent per bushel. Do you know why? Because they only had the fiat in them, though an attorney was made to base them on the church property of the kingdom.

MONEY THAT DECEAIDS. Let me show you how easy it is for a man dealing in money to deceive the people, though of course you will understand it. Let us suppose this fiat money is [CONCLUDED ON SECOND PAGE.]

full of money. I won't do it, but somebody must. But as we all have our pockets full, there is some danger of our starving to death. Nobody will work, however, and the best thing we can do is to stuff our pockets so full of fat money that they won't hold any more, meet together, start together, and go up to glory together at the same time. [Loud laughter and continuous applause.]

Choate and Webster.

Perhape the weight and power of Webster's character were due as much to the hours he spent in the woods and fields and on the ocean, chatting with farmers or sailors as he was engaged in hunting or fishing, as to the hours he spent in his study.

Now Choate, superior to Webster in quickness of apprehension and imagination, was an in-door man. The larger portion of his mature life was passed in the stifling atmosphere of the courts, or in that Milton calls "the still air of delightful studies." That is, his library. He, of course, was not so foolish as to neglect exercise; but his exercise was commonly confined to long walks through the streets or around the Common of Boston. No one ever enjoyed Nature more intensely; but he never sojourned her. His friend Charles G. Loring, one of his competitors for the leadership of the Suffolk bar, once invited him to pass a summer day at his residence on the Beverly shore. Mr. Choate, was full of enthusiasm as he walked among the woodland paths or gazed at the varying aspects of sky and ocean; he doubtless stored up in his mind images of natural beauty which flashed out afterwards in many a popular speech or legal argument; but he exhausted the capacity of the place to feed his eye and imagination in half a dozen hours. "My dear Loring," he said, in parting, "there has not been a twentieth part of a minute since I entered this terrestrial paradise that I have not enjoyed to the top of my bent; but let me tell you that should you confine me here for a week, I should die from utter ennui. You are fortunate in being able to spend so much of your time in the open air. If he had been asked to pass a fortnight with Webster at Marshfield or at his New Hampshire farm, and had accompanied him day after day in his hunting or fishing expeditions, not even Webster's conversation could have saved him from being devoured by an impatient desire to escape from the monotony of such an existence. All the eccentric originals of the neighborhood, whom Webster delighted in for a day, and then dismissed from his mind as intolerable bores, the mountaineers or ocean voyagers might have entertained him for a few days more; but the shooting and fishing, in which Webster took such pleasure, would have seemed to him a scandalous waste of time, which might have been more profitably bestowed on Æschylus and Aristophanes, on Thucydides and Tacitus, on Hooker and Jeremy Taylor, on Bacon and Burke, on Shakespeare and Milton.

In one particular Choate excelled Webster—that of constant high-bred courtesy to men and women of all ranks.—Edwin P. Whipple in Harper's Magazine for November.

CITY AND COUNTY.

BRIEFLETS.

—Full citizens.
—Keep your umbrellas within reach.
—The weather was giving everybody a breeze to-day.
—Remember McKee & Bro's. millinery opening to-morrow evening.
—Adjutant General Bryant is daily expected here to inspect the militia.
—C. C. Keeler, of Beloit, was among those who paid Janesville a visit to-day.
—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McClellan have been bereaved by the death of their infant son.

—It's the style to-day to hang to your hat-brim while crossing the bridge. Hold fast to that which is good.
—Will Jeffries has been called from his studies at Beloit college, by the death of his aunt, Mrs. J. B. Carle.
—Frank Kimball, son of Hon. Fenner Kimball, rejoices now in the fact that he is the father of a bouncing boy.
—Two wagons were tipped over in front of Britton & Kimball's store this morning. They were only baby's wagons though.
—The campaign meeting announced for Harmony last evening, was necessarily postponed on account of wet skies and muddy roads.
—The cases brought against McArthur by Constable Case, for interference with him while trying to attach a load of potatoes, have been dropped, the master having been settled.

—C. E. Andrews & Co., the live baking powder manufacturers, have something to say to the people of Janesville, and our readers should carefully peruse their column in this issue. Every housewife, attention!
—City Treasurer Haselton will appear in the Circuit Court, on the first day of the term thereof, to demand that those who have not paid their city taxes, should show cause why they have not done so. Let the delinquents take warning.

—W. H. Boyde, Esq., in the city, and made the Gazette a pleasant call. He is looking after the interests of C. E. Andrews & Co., of Milwaukee, of Pearl Baking Powder fame. He knows the value of printer's ink, having formerly been in the business.

—A number of those interested in the glory of the military expected to go to Beloit last evening to see the Rockford Rifles drill, but the heavy rain led them to fear that the drill would not take place, and they accordingly telegraphed to Rockford, and received a reply that the Rifles were not going until some future date.
—The October number of the Milton College Journal is upon our table. It has a bright face, is bracing, and is full of readable matter. As its subscription is only a dollar a year no friend or former student of the College can afford to give it the cold shoulder. It is a convenient and reliable way of keeping track of all school acquaintances, and has much merit also as a literary journal.

—The readers of the Gazette will remember the exploits of a man named Davidson who rented a store of Conrad and proposed to start into the grain business here, but who skipped the town suddenly. A man answering his description and playing about the same game has been arrested in Hamilton, Ill., for swindling a bank in Burlington, Iowa, out of $320, he having deposited there $2,000 in drafts on Chicago which were afterwards found to be bogus. The money was recovered, and the man locked up in default of $1,000 bail.
—E. T. Foote has been to Chicago, and while there secured some big bargains, which enables him to offer some goods at wonderfully low prices. Among them is a fine stock of lap-ropes; a large lot of Plymouth buck mittens, boys sizes being 75 cents, and men's $1.35; Cardigan Jackets at panic prices; fifty dozen socks at ten cents a pair; striped cassimere half hose at two shillings, never known to be sold less than fifty cents. He has made a strike on these goods and proposes to give to his customers the benefit of it.
—Justice Pritchard's court room was graced by a goodly-sized audience this morning, and all because of a simple assault case, which proved to be no assault after all. James Stanton complained that Ben George pushed him down on the sidewalk in front of the latter's saloon, last Monday evening, and made a "combustible" attack upon him, which fortunately resulted in no serious injury. George had a host of witnesses who swore that Stanton was creating a disturbance in front of George's place, and that the latter pushed him away, but not violently, and that Stanton instead of being knocked down, got his legs tangled up and set down to take a rest. George was discharged and Stanton will have to look elsewhere for satisfaction.

—The weather.
The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 64 degrees above and at 2 o'clock this afternoon at 72 degrees above. Rainy. One year ago to-day at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 57 and 64 degrees above.
The indication to-day are, for the Tennessee and Ohio valleys and lake region, southerly winds, warmer, cloudy, and possibly rainy weather.

—CHARGED WITH WIFE-BEATING.
John Carlton, a farmer of the town of Bradford, was arrested and brought before Justice Balch this afternoon on complaint of his wife, who says that he has beaten her severely and that she is afraid of him. She wanted him bound over to keep the peace. He gave bonds in the sum of $500.
—RALLY AT HANOVER.
Last evening there was a Republican rally at Brown's Hall, Hanover. The roads were of course in so muddy a condition, that many were prevented from attending, but in spite of all these hindrances a sufficiently large audience was gathered to warrant the speakers in proceeding with their talks. Mr. Brown, Sr., presided, and introduced Hon. James Sutherland and Henry Blanchard, of this city, who presented strong arguments in favor of hard money, and who were received enthusiastically. At the close of their speeches, the speakers were tendered a vote of thanks, and an invitation to come again, this expression being a unanimous one indicated by a rising vote.

DEAD TO RIGHTS.

Two of the Gang of Burglars Squealed.
This afternoon young McKivitt and William Lee were brought up before Justice Pritchard to answer to the charge of burglarizing Lawrence & Atwood's store. They waived examination and in default of the required $600 bail were locked up in jail. They both own up fairly and squarely and there is now no doubt but what the whole three will be sent "over the road." Young Roethinger also waived examination.

THE OHMS MURDER.

The trial of Fred Ohms for the murder of his father is in progress at Monroe. The prosecution is making out a very strong case. Five witnesses have sworn to his being the man who took the train at Juda. One woman woman swore that she saw Ohms in a field about a mile from his father's house, the day before the murder. The tracks of his heels in the mud have been traced for over a mile. One witness swears to a threat made by young Ohms that he would kill his father if a chance presented itself. The defense as foreshadowed will be an alibi, to establish the fact that he was in Janesville the night of the murder.

SPORTING SUNDRIES.

A. W. Richmond, the owner of Hopeful, issues a challenge to all the world to produce a trotter who can beat his little gray gelding, mile heats, three to five, for any reasonable sum.
The Racine College boys yesterday defeated the Milwaukee cricket club.
There was no game played by the Chicago and Indianapolis clubs yesterday owing to rain.
Jack O'Rourke has contracted with the Boston club for next year.
The Providence and Boston play three games next week.
The Australian cricket team has decided not to stop to play in Chicago but to push right on to San Francisco.

LIST OF PATENTS.

The following patents have been issued out of the United States Patent Office, to citizens of Wisconsin, for the week ending October 1st 1878. Reported for the Janesville Gazette by S. A. Hudson, Solicitor of Patents, &c., Lappin's Block, Janesville:
Fishing rods—H. Van Alstena, Milwaukee.
Curriers' knives—T. Hanson, Racine.
Grain drill attachments—B. Town, Fond du Lac.
Churn dashers—M. T. Mitchell, Ripon.
Cross cut saw handles—H. Barrows, Eau Claire.
Grading and ditching machines—C. C. Skinner, Eau Claire.
Food cookers—J. B. Hendrickson, Cambridge.
Logging sleds—J. Caniff, Oconto.
Force feed seeding machine—W. Van Brunt, Horicon.

UNION.

—Union has at last organized a temperance society with over sixty members and James Bullard as leader.
—Quite a goodly delegation of the Evansville Baptists visited our church last Sunday.
—Mrs. L. S. Clark has sold her farm and expects to go to Kansas where most of her relatives are now living.
—Mr. E. W. Fairbanks has let his farm to Gardner Stevens for next year.
—The funeral services of Eza Ingalls were held last week Thursday. He was an old resident of the town. Typhoid fever was the cause of his death.
—On the 10th of October Mr. and Mrs. J. S. McMillan called on one of their neighbors by special invitation. There was nothing strange about that, but at about 7 o'clock they were sent for, saying that interesting company had come and their presence was imperative, whereupon they returned and found that about eighty guests had taken possession of the house; but they understood it when reminded that it was their silver wedding. One dozen silver knives and forks, silver cake basket and napkin rings were among the presents, and were presented by Elder Rogers. James Bullard replied to the speech for Mr. and Mrs. McMillan, after which supper was served and a social time enjoyed.

EMERALD GROVE.

—We are improving our little town by getting a new side walk.
—W. S. Squire has purchased for his daughter a new organ from Chicago.
—Squire & Munger have a new clerk in their store, Mr. Thomas Adams.
—Little Freddie Squire has been seen on our side walk to-day. We are glad to see his happy smile after his long, dreary sickness.
—Mrs. Schultz is having a writing school at our place. We hope her success.
—There was a fearful runaway at our town, Tuesday last. The team reined up in front of one of our most prominent stores, and ran into the fence and stopped. No serious accidents happened. There was a little girl by the name of Lenora Mathews in the wagon. The lady wife fence teaches the women of our town a lesson as well as the cattle, for some of the women, hearing the screams of the child, went to jump over the fence, and tore their dresses terribly, and I don't think they will do it again. A LITTLE GIRL.

MILTON JUNCTION.

—Uncle Henry Crandall and wife have accepted an invitation of Mr. James Corner, of Edgerton, brother of Mrs. Crandall, to make their home with him some winter, which will make a mutually pleasant arrangement no doubt, as their daughter Ada has been keeping house for him the past year.
—Elder Wardner returned from the East on Thursday night, after an absence of three weeks. His sermon Saturday morning was very entertaining; to the large audience who gathered to hear him, comprising as it did a history of the late general conference in New Jersey, to which he was a delegate.
—Dr. Allen's drug store is now fully located and in order, and looks very nicely.
—The entertainment Thursday evening at the New Church by Mr. Dale Armstrong, was a real success. Mr. Armstrong is, without exception, the most finely cultured reader, personator, and ventriloquist. It has been our privilege to listen to in many years; a perfect gentleman of prepossessing appearance, a voice rich and flexible, though lacking a little in volume or strength, he played at once the year of the cultured and fastidious, as well as the fondly rollicking crowd, whose love of the judicious, outweighs their sense of nicety or discrimination, as to style or method.

—Butler Bros. are at last settled in their new quarters.
—Duck shooting is the order of the day. Old and young, rich and poor alike are all taking a hand in it.
—Mrs. G. W. Erb, of Salt Lake City, Utah, arrived in town last week to spend a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Erb. Mr. Erb is proprietor of one of the most extensive hotels in Utah, or in the West, his working force numbering about 75.
—Mr. H. R. Hinkley has been on the partial sick list for some time past. W. A. Dodd assists him in handling express.
—Jones & Sons are repainting the Morgan house on the out side. It is a light drab and looks quite neat.
—King, the blacksmith, is one girl ahead since our last.

COOKSVILLE.

—Another one of those benefactors of mankind has lately made his appearance, riding leisurely through the country in a covered buggy, smoking nice cigars, with a sample of a new kind of clothes-line wire, offering to give one or two farmers in a community a hundred feet of the 18 ft. line. Mr. Erb is proprietor of one of the most extensive hotels in Utah, or in the West, his working force numbering about 75.
—The concert under the direction of Mrs. Porter, for the benefit of the Grange library, last Wednesday evening, was well attended, and those taking part merited and gained the applause of the audience.
—We hear of some new crops of tobacco being sold for six cents, to be delivered as soon as properly cured and stripped.
—Boyd Jones had to dismiss school last week, owing to poor health, but he is back again this week. Bro. Jones you must "take a little out" for your health or you will not be able to finish the winter term.
—Eggs are worth 14 cents per dozen in this market, and nice butter 15 cents per pound; apples and potatoes 50 cents per bushel.
—The Fulton choir of singers led by Mr. T. Raymond, gave a concert at the schoolhouse last Monday evening. A threatening shower kept many at home, but all who listened to the songs, sacred and otherwise, were well paid. We hope they may come again and get acquainted with our people, and possibly the Cooks village singers may return the compliment.

CLINTON.

—Rev. D. M. Breckenridge and wife, who have been visiting in Scotland during the past season, have returned, improved in health, and are now visiting friends in this vicinity.
—Mr. Samuel Wallace and Master Henry Green, of New York, are visiting their relatives in our village.
—Dr. George Earl, of Albany, N. Y., formerly of this town, is making his old-time Clinton friends happy, by calling upon them.
—Our Greenback friends insist that it is hard times and yet more buildings have been erected in this city during the season than there has in any previous season in many years. William Mayview is building an addition to his house and also erecting a large hog house. J. Heimer has a large and tidy horse barn nearly completed. Dr. Geo. Covert remodeled his barn and built a large addition thereto. Mrs. Rachel Phillips is building an elegant addition to her house on "quality hill" which will largely contribute to the comfort of herself and family, and add to the general appearance of the neighborhood; these together with some twelve or fourteen good dwelling houses already finished, or nearly so, make a show good for a town of our population.
—Elder Stevens and Elder Hubbs loaded a car of goods in concert and are off to their new homes in Appleton taking the benediction of hosts of friends with them.
—Rev. Stephen Smith, succeeds Elder Hubbs in the charge here, and is already endeavoring himself to the people by his able sermons and genial ways.
—Mrs. Voorhees left town Tuesday morning for a winter's visit in New York State.
—Miss Nellie Winchester has been seriously ill for a few days past.
—Mercury stood at 80 degrees in the shade last Monday, the 14th inst.

—Birdsall & Rice have just shipped two carloads of eggs from their refrigerator, to New York, and Mr. Birdsall has gone east to attend to the marketing of them.
—Dr. Alvah Whitmore, late of the firm of Hollister & Whitman, of Madison, has been spending some days in Clinton among his relations and numerous friends here. He left Tuesday morning for a visit to Kansas and Nebraska.
—Dr. Covert made a flying trip to Chicago last Monday.
—Howard Carpenter, Esq., of Rockford, Illinois, and his mother, are among our welcome guests this week.
—The hog trade in our market has been immense for a week or two. Three cents per pound is the average price.
—Last Sunday afternoon we buried the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hartsborn, a lovely little girl of 8 months. The funeral was at the residence of the parents and was largely attended by our citizens.
—Rev. E. B. Cummings conducted the services. Seldom are the sympathies of our people more enlisted in a bereavement than on this occasion. Mr. Hartsborn left his child at home well, as he set out on one of his business trips of a few days duration, and returned to find his home made desolate by this sudden bereavement.

CITY NOTICES.

Some Years Ago
a dentist went about the country curing people's gums, and attending to their teeth. He made money and retired. He was really successful. He says now that all he used on them was Soudolent. It was true. He restored the health of the mouth by this natural remedy.
He stuck like Spalding's Glue to his customers and cured them.

Liver is King.
The liver is the imperial organ of the whole human system, as it controls the life, health and happiness of man. When it is disturbed in its proper action, all kinds of ailments are the natural result. The digestion of food, the movements of the heart and blood, the action of the brain and nervous system, are all immediately connected with the workings of the liver. It has been successfully proved that Green's August Flower is unequalled in curing all persons afflicted with Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint, and all the numerous symptoms that result from an unhealthy condition of the Liver and Stomach. Sample bottles to try, 10 cents. Positively sold in all towns on the Western Continent. Three doses will prove that it is just what you want. ^{dec1deod3w}

Use nothing but Hodson's Best, from old Minnesota wheat, if you want good flour. oct11deod3w

Beyond the Reach of Human Skill.
Is the power to restore the hair to bald heads when the bulbs at the roots are destroyed by age or disease; but there are doubtless many persons becoming bald, whose hair by careful attention might be restored to its original luxuriance and beauty. Parker's Hair Balsam is an elegant preparation, designed to meet the public want for a harmless hair dressing and restorative. It acts like magic, commencing at the very roots, removes Dandruff and all humors from the scalp, and never fails to restore gray or faded hair to the original color, and the soft, rich and glossy appearance of youth. By its occasional use falling of the hair is immediately checked, and a luxuriant and beautiful growth of young hair is induced. The exquisite perfume and the purity of its composition are highly appreciated, and as it is not a dye and does not stain the skin or clothing, it is a growing favorite of the toilet table everywhere. Buy a bottle from your druggist, A. J. Roberts, Janesville, Wis., and test its merits. ^{1123deod3w}

Harnes & Hodson's old Minnesota Wheat flour better than St. Louis winter wheat. oct11deod3w

If Baldness or a Deficiency of Hair Exists, or if the hair is gray, dry or harsh, the natural youthful color can be restored by using "London Hair Color Restorer," the most delightful article ever introduced to the American people for increasing its growth, restoring its natural color, and at the same time a lovely hair dressing and beautifier. It is totally different from all others; not sticky or gummy, and free from all impure ingredients that render many other articles obnoxious; in fact it is exquisitely perfumed and so cleanly and elegantly prepared as to make it a lasting hair dressing and toilet luxury.

J. A. TYNES, A PROMINENT CITIZEN, Wilson, N. C., writes: Some ten years ago my wife's hair commenced falling, and got very thin and turned gray; but after using "London Hair Color Restorer" the scalp became healthy, the hair stopped falling, the color was restored, and is now growing beautifully.

Ask your druggist for London Hair Color Restorer. Price, 75 cents a bottle. 84¢ bottles, $1. Main Depot for the U. S., 330 North Sixth St., Philadelphia. ^{1123deod3w}
